WOLF'S HEAD 2015 CABERNET SAUVIGNON NAPA VALLEY

TASTING NOTES:

A dark inky ruby red with aromas of blackberry, cherries and raspberries, violets and a hint of cedar and eucalyptus leaves. Big flavors of blackberry compote and a soft spice of cedar cigar box and tobacco. Long soft cocoa, tobacco and spice on the finish. Drinking beautifully now and will age for another 10–20 years.

WINERY INFO:

It all started with a crazy idea amongst a group of oenophile friends to start a winery in California. That crazy idea became reality with the purchase in late 2012 of 120 acres of unplanted land in Napa. The Wolf's Head name came about when we realized that the perimeter of our land was shaped like a wolf's head!

Our vision with the Wolf's Head family of wines is to produce something exceptional yet at a price point that anyone can afford. With the help of our winemaking partner-in-wine, Cameron Woodbridge (formerly of Hundred Acre, brother of winemaker Jayson Woodbridge and the creator of the renowned Stormy Weather Napa Valley Cabernet). Cameron has sourced fruit from Napa Valley to make each of our Wolf's Head Cabernet Sauvignon vintages as well as 2012 Haymaker Napa Valley Cabernet. Cameron has also applied his style of winemaking to our wines from Paso Robles.

Our Wolf's Head Cabernet Sauvignon comes from the Calistoga region located in the northern part of Napa Valley, home to some of the biggest, boldest wines in the Napa region. The vines are planted in a rich volcanic red soil and the high daytime and cool night time temperatures provide for intense colors, rich flavors, a touch of acidity and a ton of tannic structure in the grapes.

WINE STATS:

Blend: 100% Cabernet Sauvignon

Barrel Aging: 30 months in French oak (20% new)

WINERY INFO:

Adelaida is built on a vision of excellence: for wine, for community, and for minimal ecological impact. The land known as Hilltop Ranch, purchased in 1971 by founders Don and Elizabeth Van Steenwyk, has humble beginnings as a peaceful family sanctuary. Through decades of meticulous planning and creativity, the family built what is now known as Adelaida Vineyards & Winery.

Planted in 1991, Viking Estate Vineyard marks Adelaida's first estate vineyard and stands as a true Cabernet site. Located 14 miles from the ocean in the coastal-influenced Adelaida District, Viking Vineyard grows among the steepest slopes on the Adelaida property, with elevations reaching 1,900 feet. Sitting on a precipitous south-facing slope, the site presents a challenging environment for growing grapes. Defining characteristics of Viking Estate Vineyard include calcareous limestone soils, south-facing slopes, and a mountain-like micro-climate that elevates UV absorption.
